

FOREWARD

History makes for interesting reading for two reasons: firstly, we can read the facts, enjoy them, and reminisce; secondly, we can study the facts, and plan the future by building on the successes of the past. Hopefully, as you read this history you will be motivated by the successes of the Warragul Jaycees.

No University in the world can provide the educational opportunities that can be gained by participating in the Jaycee movement.

This book conveys the experience of hundreds of active members who were given opportunities and accepted the challenge. The experience and knowledge acquired through involvement with Jaycees at various levels will prove valuable for the rest of our lives, and due acknowledgement must go to the founder of Warragul Jaycees - Ron Hally.

The history of Warragul Jaycees can best be judged by the performances of the members in our community following their training with Jaycees.

W.H. (Bill) PYLE

Bill was an inaugural member of Warragul Jaycees and became Chapter President in 1965, the year in which it was awarded the Outstanding Australian Chapter.

He went on to become an outstanding member of Australian Jaycees and Jaycee International.

1968	Victoria State President
1970	National President
1972	World Vice President

These achievements summarize the heights to which Bill has risen and which have made him a more than worthy recipient of a Jaycee Senatorship and Life Membership of Warragul Jaycees.

The formation of the Warragul Junior Chamber of Commerce began when a man named Ron Hally shifted to the town. Ron was a former member of Essendon Junior Chamber and with the help of Essendon and other State Jaycees, began making approaches to prospective members in Warragul early in 1962.

After successful investigation by the Essendon Chapter a public meeting was convened on 26th May, 1962, following which the inaugural meeting was held on the 12th June, 1962. At the meeting 32 inaugural members were inducted.

The first general meeting was held on 2nd July. At this meeting the temporary Executive was re-elected and five councillors elected, and it was decided to operate five commissions.

Those elected were as follows;

1962 Council

President	Ron Hally
Vice President	John Shannon
Secretary	Peter McAdie
Leadership Training	John Farrell
Public Relations	Bill Pyle
Extension & Membership	Milo Davine
Community Service	Joe Glasson

President John Shannon
Immediate Past President Ron Hally
In presenting this booklet we hope it will provide interesting reading for past and current Jaycees, while at the same time present an insight into our organization for potential Jaycees.

It deals with the individual summaries from each past Chapter President, noting the major events of that year. We start with the inaugural President for 1962, Ron Hally.

It must be noted that we have not attempted to list all activities in each year or name all participants, but have merely summarized each year. That gigantic task if completed would detract from the aim of this production, which is to provide a readable summary of Warragul Jaycees.

We acknowledge the contributions of Past Chapter Presidents and ask their understanding if any changes have been made for various reasons.

My thanks to all contributors.

At the start of 1963 the Chamber consisted of 30 members and finished with 33 active members. The Annual Subscription was £ 3/10/-. Monthly dinner meetings were generally held at Napier House with a cost of 10/-.

Leadership Training Commission activities included :

- the first Chairmanship Training Course.
- the first team in the Ralph L. Cooper Shield Debate.
- Training Course for office bearers for 1964.

Community Service included :

- the Community Development and Survey Report, used in later times for a number of projects.

This was a major project averaging approximately 1.2½ hours per member.

Diary sales in 1963 amounted to approximately 500 diaries being sold at 10/- each.

One of the first money making ideas was the selling of ti-tree stakes which had been cut and sorted by the Jaycees. These were sold for £ 2 for 100 at 5'- 6' lengths.

The first Chamber project commenced soon after its inauguration with a five session public speaking course. The course was successful with an average attendance of 34.

In this first year "News & Views" was established and has continued for sixteen years.

Among other projects carried out the culmination of activities by the Extension & Membership Commission was organising the visit of the High Commissioner from Malaya. The visit of the High Commissioner really put Warragul Jaycees on the map and also gave the public some idea of how high Jaycees are held. Those who had the pleasure of spending several hours with His Excellency were fortunate enough to get at first hand information about one of our important northern neighbours. The visit of the High Commissioner exemplified the aim of Jaycees, that is to broaden our knowledge to become better citizens, better employees or employers, and better parents.

In his annual report in 1962, Ron concluded by saying "It has given me great pleasure and satisfaction to see this Chamber start moving forward and I am sure that in the future all who join our Chamber will derive benefits in their own personal development, as well as playing an important role in our Community."

Ron first joined the Jaycees in Essendon in 1958. In his own words, ever since then I have been convinced that it is the best organization for any young man to belong to, providing he is an active member. To me Jaycees is the only organization that concentrates on the development of its members through leadership development programmes, coupled with community service projects.

I am very grateful that I had the opportunity to be a Jaycee member for a number of years and I know that the skills I developed through Jaycee activities have been very valuable to me and, most importantly, I have developed life long friendships as a result of the activities.

If I had been asked to describe in one word the benefit which I derived from my involvement in Jaycees, and in particular from my year as President in 1964, I think the word to be used would be "education".

As a member I learned to work with others in Chapter projects and in particular gained much from the projects and activities designed for self-improvement in which the Jaycee movement specialises.

As a President in the very early years of the Warriagul Chapter there were several projects undertaken for the first time. Two which come to mind were the Area Seminar and the Ball. Both appeared rather frightening at first glance, however having learned as a Vice President that delegation of responsibility is the best way to get other members involved and to share the worries, efforts such as these did not present any real problems. I repeat my thanks to all the members who assisted me - particularly in my year as President.

President	Bill Felt

In conclusion, I would like to add that I believe that involvement in Jaycees provides possibly the best and most enjoyable area for the self-development of young men, available today.

The highlights of the 1965 year were the winning of the trophy for the Outstanding Chapter in Victoria at the meeting of the Outstanding Chapter Award at Adelaide and were more important and no doubt the reason for winning these Awards was the total involvement of all 45 members of the Organization. Today of course we fit to attend the State Conference at Warrambool.

We then broke the Chapter up into who were called Committees. Ken Rowlinson as Chairman of Membership & Extension, Bill Felt as Treasurer, Harry Rogers as Secretary, and I as President. We then won the guiding light in the formation of the Executive Committee, where a further 25 young men became members of Jaycees.

The Community Development Committee set about a Food Safety Project, which I feel still has its flag on their coat of arms. The Project Safety Project which brought to our attention the importance of safety tests and to which, I believe, Walt Rames and his group played over 230 head of cattle from the 1965-66 season. South Wales Broughton Area as part of the project. The cattle were in the arch for what ever last night before they returned in a much better state of health.

Leadership Development under Ken Rowlinson, teacher at the Technical School, continued during the past two Executive Speaking Courses and two Meeting Facilitators Courses.

Michael Power, Dairy Farmer, as Chairman of Community and Activities led 45 primary school children involved in a friendly exchange with American community, organized and spoke for Australia and visited and reflected on the debate between the five local secondary schools.

The highlights of the 1965 year were the winning of the Award for the Outstanding Chapter in Victoria; the winning of the Outstanding Chapter Award of Australia and even more important, and no doubt the reason for winning those Awards, was the total involvement of all 45 members of the Organization. Twelve of whom saw fit to attend the State Conference at Warrnambool.

In 1965 we broke the Chapter up into what were called Commission Ken Rowlinson as Chairman of Membership & Extension, lifted the membership from 33 to 45. From an Extension point of view he was the guiding light in the formation of the Pakenham Chapter, where a further 25 young men became members of Jaycees.

The Community Development Commission introduced a Road Safety Project, which I feel still has its flow on these days in the Tractor Safety Project which brought to our attention the advantages of safety-cabs and roll-bars. Chairman, Neil Reeves, and his group placed over 250 head of cattle from the Dungen, New South Wales Drought Area on farms in the district. These cattle were in the area for well over four months before being returned in a much better state of health.

Leadership Development under Ron Cameron, teacher at the Technical School, conducted during the year two Effective Speaking Courses and two Meeting Procedure Courses.

Michael Power, Dairy Farmer, as Chairman of Education and Youth Activities had 45 primary school children involved in a Pen-friend Exchange with overseas countries; organized the Youth Speaks for Australia semi-final and introduced Inter-school Debate between the five local secondary schools.

I first heard about Jaycee International in 1960 or 61 in a Nissan hut, passing for a temporary lecture room (circa 1941) at Dookie near Shepparton.

Two young men, both heavily involved in Jaycee, were promoting Jaycee in the Shepparton district. One Rick Stinton (from Essendon Jaycee), about twenty years old, with great speaking ability and enthusiasm for community involvement, sold Jaycee to me. The other man, President of Shepparton at that time, was equally impressive, in his fluent praise of the self-development opportunities in Jaycee. Having joined Jaycee three years before, with as he said a lousy command of English and a bad stutter, he set himself to overcome and master his lack of self confidence.

When Warragul Chapter was formed at the instigation of Ron Holly and with the help of Essendon Jaycees in 1962 I jumped at the chance to become a member a couple of months after it was formed. The greatest personal benefits I gained in the twelve years as a member, especially in the initial years, were experience in effective speaking and meeting procedure, (tremendously important when anyone is as nervous of this as I was at 19). Responsibility in project and commission activities and the fellowship and assistance from people concerned for their community and the development of theirs and my ability.

Debating and involvement in community projects such as Effective Speaking courses which in turn led to Effective Speaking courses in secondary schools and subsequent debating competition. The real value to me was being placed in new areas, where I had to sell ideas to some unconvinced people and be involved in producing the goods. The success of many such projects gave great satisfaction.

Perhaps the year of presidency of anybody gives greatest experience and doubly so in Jaycee. My experience in 1966 to lead and encourage the 35 - 50 members to develop ideas for community development, to have a go at projects with plans, of endeavour, without the necessity to always succeed.

These and the involvement with other people in the Warragul community, are the things I look back on with thanks, for Jaycee being in Warragul.

Michael Power

In recognition of his contribution to the Chapter, Michael was presented with a "Life Membership" of the Chapter.

In this year the National organization had become known as Australia Jaycees instead of Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The 43 projects which were successfully completed in 1967 helped to give practically every member some training for the future. In addition we were honoured to receive an Award of Merit as Outstanding Chapter in 1967. Highlights included:

- Effective speaking and meeting procedure courses, for the public and for school students.
- Two displays on tractor safety.
- Further work (more than 1000 man hours of it!) on the farm location map.
- More than $1000 raised for the Tasmanian Fire Relief Appeal.
- Youth Day in Business was inaugurated - at the time I said "one of the most successful projects ... and one which has tremendous potential for the future". I think this prediction has been borne out since 1967.
- Business Management Course, conducted by John P. Young and Associates.
- LARJ Appeal (Lions, Apex, Rotary and Jaycees) raised more than $9000 for the West Gippsland Hospital.
- 300 people attended a Mastitis seminar.
- United Nations Day Dinner helped CAA.
- Terry Cook of Drouin High won the inaugural Student of the Year Award.
- Mr. Ted Henshall, JP, won the inaugural Citizen of the Year Award.
- John Morgan was Jaycee of the Year.
- We reached our target membership of 60 - at that time we were one of only 25 chapters in Australia with more than 50 members.

- Bill Pyle and a small Committee co-ordinated Farm Management Training as a national project for Australian Jaycees. 49 chapters conducted the project.
- We ran an Area Seminar for 160 people.
- We got the wheels turning for one of Warragul's most important assets ten years later - PROCEED was got under way, with Ian Armour's assistance.
- We brought David Holroyd to Australia, under Operation Opportunity.

Looking back now, the things which mean the most to me are:

1. The establishment of so many lasting friendships, for both Barbara and I.
2. The amount of learning about management that can be done in an organisation of volunteers. No formal courses or books can teach a tenth as much as trying to keep 60 people happily and gainfully occupied, in the community interest.
3. The lasting value to the community of projects like PROCEED and Youth Day in Business - followed later by Community Awareness.
4. The tremendous individual development which you feel in yourself and can actually see in others. Look at the roll call - Ian Armour, Max Cameron, Bill Robinson, Des Ricardo, John Morgan, Kevin Dale, Michael Power, Ken Rowlinson, Neil Reeves, Jim Saleeba, David Holroyd, Bill Pyle, John Shannon, Milo Davine, Ron Holly - you could go on and on.

There may be other ways of getting these things, but I feel truly privileged to have got them in Warragul Jaycees.

My greatest recommendation - I'd like my kids to join. My greatest (and only) regret - what I believe to be the chapter's 19th century attitude to women membership. I think we'll be dragged screaming into this century some day - but what a pity we didn't lead the way!

Barrie Barclay

Barrie was instrumental in organising a number of projects which have been going since his year. His high level of involvement later earned him a Jaycee Senatorship.

Everyone has a reason why he joined Jaycee and it need not necessarily be the same as the next person.

Looking back over my first contact with the Warragul Chapter I probably joined -

Firstly because I was invited,
Secondly I felt that I was welcomed by chapter members, and
Thirdly I could see that with the commission activities that were operating, here was something I could get involved in.

My first year in the Warragul Chapter was an experience that really got me involved. Believe it or not I used to be a fairly retiring type and through Leadership Development and Community Development, etc. I suddenly found that I was able to communicate to people in a way that I hadn't thought possible. This also involved my family and I think with the inclusion of the Jaycettes as part and parcel of the chapter it was almost like opening up a new door that had the word 'involvement' on it.

The benefit I gained through being a Jaycee and participating in the activities will always stay with me.

Whenever possible I try to pass on to any other organisation that I may be involved in the experiences that I gained while a member of the Warragul Jaycees.

Speaking of experiences, there are too many to mention all here but there are four that come readily to mind and they are in order:-

My induction as a Jaycee,
The Outstanding Chapter Award,
My election as President, and
The night I was made a Life Member of the Warragul Chapter.

If I was asked any regrets I would say yes, and that is I didn't join Jaycees years earlier.

Neil Reeves

More than 2,000 man hours for free! Incredible as it may seem these hours were contributed to a project which has nearly reached its climax with the compilation completed and the draft of the West Gippsland Location Map forwarded to the printers before the end of 1968 for release early the following year.

This map covering an area of approximately 1,000 square miles, west to Tynong, east to Trafalgar, north to Neerim North and south to Ferndale, also contains a comprehensive index of all farms set out on its back. Its size of 46 inches x 34 inches is reported to have been the biggest map ever produced in Victoria.

During 1968 two very successful Cabaret Balls were conducted - the Shire Presidents netting $247 contributed to the "Neals on Wheels" section of the Senior Citizen's Welfare Committee, while the Jaycee Ball which involved startling changes in hall decorations and lighting effects and the innovation of a hot supper, produced $286.

I was privileged to represent the chapter at National Convention at Surfers Paradise and was involved in the successful campaigning of Bill Pyle's election to the position of Executive Vice-President Operations.

Farm Management Training, a project originated by Warragul Jaycees, was adopted as a Category 2 Program at World Congress. Local member Harry Edgoose acted as liason officer and several overseas chapters carried out F.M.T. projects.

Operation Opportunity reached its climax with the arrival from Wales on the "Ellines" on February 1st of David Holroyd and his family. Sponsored by this chapter David was subsequently inducted as an honorary member and in later years held the important posts of Chapter President and Regional President.

The machinery was put into motion to establish the Adult Education Centre following the formation of a Promotions Committee at a public meeting addressed by C. Cave from Mangaratta centre.

On going projects such as Effective Speaking Course, Ralph L. Cooper debates, Youth Speaks for Australia, Youth Day and Business, and Diary Sales were successfully conducted during the year and member recruitment resulting in 12 inductions.

Recipients at Awards Banquet in December where Citizen of the Year: Herb. Hennessy, Student - Colin Grant, Jaycee - Kevin Dale.

Benefits which I consider have been derived from my Jaycee training which I can now apply to my current involvement consist of the following:-

1. Experience in meeting procedures.
2. Compiling reports.
3. Features and benefits as applied in salesmanship.
ref. Diary Sales.
4. Confidence in presenting toasts or impromptu speeches

Having been associated with Warragul Jaycees for 12 years, I would heartily recommend this organisation to any prospective member and suggest that your participation in Jaycees will be a stimulating and rewarding experience if you avail yourself of the opportunities abounding.

Projects of significance during the year included -

Completion of the Jaycee Farm Location Map,
Organising Youth Speaks for Australia,
Chapter magazine was presented regularly on a self supporting basis.

Working as Chapter President meant for me a better understanding of teamwork effort in getting a job done as opposed to ordering tasks to be carried out.

Valuable training was gained in chairmanship, meeting procedure and the benefit of this training carried through to my particular business.

Understanding personal points of view and arriving at the best decision for the organisation was part of my Jaycee experience;

as was the awareness of my own and others responsibilities in the community in general.

When I outgrew Jaycees the knowledge that I had gained and the training enabled me to further assist in the community.

It says a lot for the calibre of member when a chapter can lose the active services of eleven very experienced key Jaycees and still survive. This is precisely what happened in Warragul at the beginning of 1970. As President being confronted with this situation I saw the year ahead as one of team building and consolidation. The success or otherwise of our efforts in 1970 I leave for others to judge. Along with numerous activities in this year "Shop Awards" for able shop assistants were presented. After one year of sales the 2500th Jaycee Farm Map was sold.

Jaycee will always be to me synonymous with opportunity. Whether as a floor member, commission chairman or chapter president I have always been challenged by the opportunities confronting me. As a floor member the opportunity was there to put across ideas and strive to get them accepted. As a commission chairman I had the opportunity to motivate others to put across their ideas so that together we could implement them. As chapter president there was the opportunity for organisation and planning on the larger scale as well as the opportunity to spread the Warragul Jaycees story into the community and into other Jaycee areas.

We are always going to be confronted by opportunities. Jaycee, I believe, is the finest training organisation of it's kind for assisting young men and women to see opportunities when they occur, and for training them to be able to accept those opportunities.

Over the past fifteen years Warragul Jaycees has played a large part in influencing the direction of many young men in our community. I trust that the next fifteen years will continue in the same vein.

David Holroyd

As indicated in the 1967 year report, David Holroyd and his family were sponsored to Australia from Britain with the National Project "Operation Opportunity". David not only went on to be a valuable chapter member and President but was the inaugural Gippsland Regional President and later given the distinction of a Jaycee Senatorship.

As well as involvement in numerous ongoing chapter activities, highlights included -

Involvement in Rural Safety Programme
Adjudicators Course
Handover of Jaycee caravan to Warragul Shire
A representative from the Canadian Consulate as guest speaker at a Dinner Meeting.

The famous French politician Tellerand, when asked what he had done during the French Revolution, said, "I survived". To all of us, to be in such a position to be able to say that at the end of our lives would seem most desirable. Yet I believe we must also be able to ask how we survived, have we contributed enough during our short spell on this earth to make it worthwhile. As our dear "Chairman" Mal has said "life wasn't meant to be easy". This I suppose is true but it does not mean it was not meant to be rewarding.

Each of us has the capacity to improve in personality and character and in many intangible ways that will make us better citizens. As they usually develop slowly many of us may be unaware of the improvements. They may come through our work, personal relationships with our friends and; while those embroiled in the practice might find it hard to believe, in institutions such as marriage. Many people may be unaware of these changes but find it expressed in a sense of well being, physical health and confidence that automatically when successful in their pursuits. What is vitally important is that many people do not realise their capacities or utilise them to the full. Others, realising the benefits that may come through self development, lack the means by which to achieve their goal. I believe Jaycees can provide the means.

I have seen men grow in stature, strengthen in character and broaden in personality by utilising in full the activities of Jaycees that encourage self-confidence and motivation, and opportunities existing in the brotherhood of friendship. I have seen this in other men and experienced it myself. In my life I have undergone some vicissitudes which have meant facing many changes. I firmly believe it was my experiences in Jaycees and the inspiration offered by its members, that enabled me to deal with these changes with a considerable degree of determination that would otherwise have been unavailable.

This is why I commend Jaycees to you. It will not be easy nor will it involve overnight success. Jaycees means participation and dedication, but the more you give to Jaycees the more you will benefit. This is fundamental but it must be realised. Not just material benefits and success that lie await for you, but the inestimable rewards that come through being individuals, family men and citizens. But it is up to you to make the effort. If you have the disability to be so self satisfied so as to not want to make changes in your situation, not only you will be the poorer, so too will be those who depend upon you.

The year of Seventy-Two was Warragul Jaycees tenth anniversary year.

It was most satisfying to see the "Community Awareness" project initiated. The aim is to give secondary school students an awareness of subjects not covered in their curriculum. Speakers addressed classes on their particular subject - politics, local government, consumerism, conservation.

During June of '72 our tenth anniversary dinner was held. Only on such an occasion when each president outlines the achievements of his year does one fully appreciate the contribution that young people can make to their community through Jaycee.

In 1972 twenty or so new members were recruited. New ideas and enthusiasm are a vital part of any organisation. In Jaycee it is satisfying to see recruiting campaigns paying off, and the new members making a contribution to the organisation and the community.

'Self development' is one of those intangible things talked about in Jaycees. The practice and experience we get in running projects can be applied in job, community and personal life.

To see this development taking place over a period of years in an organisation such as Jaycees has been the most satisfying aspect of my Jaycee career.

Highlights of 1973 included:

- the induction of eleven new members
- the money raising project "White Elephant Auction" was launched
- Community Awareness Course was continued and expanded
- a survey investigating the need for a third kindergarten or child minding centre for Warragul
- a campaign to make tractor anti roll bars compulsory in Warragul Shire
- a programme to transport elderly widows to their regular meetings
- the first Jaycee house project was launched
- at regional level an Award of Merit for the 1972 Community Awareness programme was gained

- on his retirement from Jaycees, John Shannon was presented with a silver tray to confirm his life membership as a Senator of Australian Jaycees.

Dinner meetings were varied, ranging from interchapter debating, orientation segments at meetings, guest speakers, Youth Speaks for Australia and Geoff M. King events, Leadership Development exercises and three of these evenings were mixed dinner meetings.

Jaycettes were most active this year and the President and Secretary also attended council meetings which provided a worthwhile interchange of ideas.

In summarising, involvement in Warragul Jaycees allows a member to:

- a) "give" to the community by participating in community activities;
- b) avail himself of the opportunity to learn the arts of oratory and debating;
- c) determine his level of competence by accepting responsibilities;
- d) learn the art of "doing more" with the time available by simply accepting "responsibilities" in addition to those which he has anyway;
- e) meet and enjoy the comradeship of good people.

One of the most significant projects of this year was the "House Project". Its outstanding success was mainly due to the efficient manner that Mike Daniels displayed in organizing people and materials for the house.

The Project benefited the Chapter in many ways and resulted in the West Gippsland Spastic Centre receiving a cheque for $8,000.00 and enabled a grant of $40,000 to be obtained. This project was awarded a Jaycee International World Award for the Best Local Project.

Two hundred people attended a surprise Valedictory Dinner Dance for Bill Pyle to recognise his retirement from Jaycees. It was organized as a tribute to the outstanding service that Bill had given to the organization.

Some 42 projects were undertaken during the year, six new members were inducted and the total membership was 43.

Summary of Projects

Over $10,000 was donated towards community projects and the chapter turnover was $33,000 for the year.

We were fortunate to win the "Outstanding Chapter" and "Outstanding Project" Awards at the Regional Conference in Maffra. At the Victorian State Conference held at Dimboola we won the "Outstanding Chapter Award".

The highlight of the year was undoubtedly the Jaycee International Award for the "Best Local Project" presented at the XXIX World Congress held in Auckland, New Zealand. The Award is one of the most prestigious presented; it was an honour that this Chapter can be justly proud of.

However I think the most outstanding feature was the fellowship amongst members, it is a vital ingredient in the success of the Chapter.

The purpose of Jaycees is to be a personal development organisation. The opportunities in Jaycees have allowed me to broaden my horizons more than I thought was ever possible.

Kevin Dale

Kevin was one of three delegates representing Australian Jaycees in the 1975 Asian Youth Voyage in Japan.

In 1976 he became the third Warragul Jaycee to be President of the Gippsland Region. He then went on to be National Public Relations Director and a member of the National Executive of Australian Jaycees in 1979.

Kevin was later presented with a Senatorship in recognition of his involvement at Region, National and International level.

Jaycees is an organization that gives young people the opportunity to develop at their own pace. When I first joined this organization I never in my wildest dreams ever thought that I would ever end up as the president. But I did. In 1974 I was persuaded by a few friends to go on Council for 1975. This I agreed to. But on the night of the elections I was in for a big shock for I was conned into being nominated for president. I thought that was only to be a formality as I felt there were other young men who would naturally be elected for the role of president as they had more experience than I. But I was wrong. I found out later it was a set-up and I fell for it. I must say I never regretted it for these young men were behind me for the whole year; I do not know whether it was because they enjoyed it or they felt I was so hopeless that the organization may collapse if they were not.

I guess the thing I remember most is the number of members who attended the conventions that year, for at Regional, State and National Conventions we were well represented. That year we had twelve new jackets made and everyone knew that Warragul was there. At National Convention in Shepparton we had the largest number of members attending from any Chapter. We competed to have the 1976 National Project which was the Business Management Game and we won.

This competition was great fun and all who were at Shepparton enjoyed it.

In 1975 we also started shifting a house from Yallourn which was completed in 1976.

When it was all over I was sorry to see it come to an end, as I felt I was just beginning to have confidence in what I was doing and no longer was I shaking in my shoes when I had to get up and speak. But this is the great part of Jaycoos, giving the opportunity for someone else to gain this experience.

One of the major achievements of 1976 was running Australian Jaycees National Project the "Business Management Game".

The "B.M.G.", a computerised management game was co-ordinated by Doug Armour with assistance from his wife Dianne, and Chapter members.

Organizing the 300 entries received was a mammoth task and the B.M.G. is recorded as having had one of the greatest participation levels for a National Project.

The longest single undertaking during 1976 was the renovation of a house previously located in Yallourn. Now situated in Warragul, this house that involved some 1,000 man hours, resulted in a profit in excess of $8,000 to the Chapter. This project won the "Outstanding Regional Project Award" at Regional Conference.

Highlights of the year included Kevin Dale being selected as National Co-ordinator of the Asian Youth Voyage. Mrs. P. Kent was announced the Outstanding Citizen for her community work.

At first glance a significant feature of the year was the high financial turnover which injected some $8,000 into the community. But this result was only brought about by the organizing and involvement of a Chapter as a whole. The benefit to individuals in terms of; learning, developing skills, in using time more efficiently, working with other people, all these, and the many more self development experiences gained, cannot be measured in terms of dollars or whatever. But these are the significant rewards for involvement and are what is available to the person willing to be actively involved in Jaycees.

1976 was the year Australian Jaycees voted for women to become full members of Jaycees. An important step in the development of our organization.

In 1977 the accent in Warragul Jaycees was on "increased membership" and "better public relations."

Membership at the beginning of the year was 33, and during the year 13 new members were inducted. Two members were transferred in their work, leaving a total membership of 44 at the end of 1977.

Public Relations were highlighted by an excellent Chapter magazine, which was printed monthly, and delivered to each member prior to the dinner meeting. For the first time our Chapter conducted a weekly radio program on Radio 3UL. This broadcast was conducted by our P.R.O. and involved several Chapter members who gave details of current Jaycee projects, not only in our Chapter, but throughout the Gippsland Region. It was an excellent method of getting the message of Jaycees across to the community.

The outstanding efforts of Chas Dale as P.R.O. were duly rewarded when the Chapter won the "Outstanding Public Relations Award" for Victoria at the State Conference in August.

Two "different" projects involving Community Service are worthy of mention. Early in the year our members organized the carting of grass hay from district farms to local railway stations. This hay was donated to the farmers in the Western District who had suffered heavy losses due to the bushfires during the summer.

Later in the year our Shire released a new "Strategy Plan" and invited discussion and comment from the community. Our chapter organized a Seminar to provide information about the Plan, and to discuss the Plan in greater detail.

And we had some fun too! Who could forget that memorable day at Ellinbank when we trounced our old rivals, Leongatha at the inaugural one day cricket match: then there was the raft regatta at Maffra, where only a slight navigational error robbed Kenties Krazy Kraft from winning the big event.

Once again our White Elephant Auction was a success with over $1000 available for distribution amongst local charities, and thanks to a keen Diary Sales team, we sold over 1,000 Jaycees Diaries.

In all over 40 projects were conducted which enabled all members to become involved in the Jaycee organisation.

There is no doubt that the Jaycee organisation offers a tremendous opportunity to young people to develop their leadership ability and to become involved in community service, but above all, Jaycees provides the opportunity to meet people, and the opportunity to make lasting friendships. How true, "that Earth's great treasure lies in human personality".

1978 was going to be a year for the members to enjoy themselves and indulge in less of the physical work and more of the personal development/fellowship activities. During 1977 we all put in long hours renovating that home and I thought it would be a good idea to steer away from the big projects in 1978.

It seems though that you can't stop some people from working and what should have been a quiet year was in fact pretty hectic. On top of all of the usual traditional activities we managed to stage a "Log Rolling Championship" and a "Popular Bar Maid" competition (which raised $400 for the Olympic Federation), and arranged a Regional Conference for 202 people.

We also gave nearly $5,000.00 to local charitable organisations that year.

What I remember most about my year as President of the Chapter are the people who worked (and played) so hard during the year to make 1978 a success for the Warragul Chapter. To see the Warragul boys in full flight at a convention you would have thought we were the biggest Chapter - obviously we were the best!

The 1979 year saw the continuation of many previously established Jaycee projects as well as several new and useful projects were undertaken. New projects included a clean up working bee at the Warragul Cemetery, repair and redecorate the inside of a large old house in Victoria Street for occupancy by the Warragul Social Worker Group, a self help for arthritics evening covering aids and current treatment available for arthritic sufferers.

Fund raising mainly to support charity work and donations to local charities form part of the Warragul Chapter activities and in 1979 year several of these projects were undertaken. The most successful of these being the white elephant auction which raised some $1400 for donation to the year of the child fund. Between the various fund raising activities and working bees held several hundred man hours would have been contributed by Jaycees for the benefit of the community over the year. This is something that all Jaycees and particularly myself are proud of.

Self development projects and activities were organised such as effective speaking course held over a period of one month, oratory preparation and practise course, intercommission and interchapter debating. These were designed to give participants experience and confidence in speaking and addressing an audience. One of the participants in the oratory program, Tom Phelan, went on to win our chapter oratory competition and also the Gippsland Regional competition and then travel to Melbourne to represent the Gippsland Region in the State oratory finals.

One of the other main activities of Jaycees is the enjoyment of social functions and during the year five of these were held. These activities varied from fishing trips, games nights, a trip to a theatre and a dinner dance. Social events are great times when everyone can get together and enjoy a relaxing moment.

The Warragul chapter has an outstanding level of achievement in the community area, self development and continuous social activities. I am proud to have been a member of the Jaycee organization and particularly to have been a member of the Warragul Chapter

The year of 1980 was one of strength and involvement.

Over 35 successful projects were completed both for the benefit of the community and for the individual development of our members.

Membership commenced with 31 and six were inducted.

Cricket match against Leongatha. Tradition prevailed and Leongatha won a closely fought contest.

The April Dinner meeting as usual was set aside for a wine and cheese night. Members, wives and girlfriends tasted some good and some not so good wine. Warwick Barton successfully picked the "mystery red" and Jon Soutar the "mystery white".

Fishing trip to the Tambo River. Not many fish were caught, but Ian Coutts won the prize for the fisherman most likely to succeed.

Combined Service Clubs Dinner in aid of the Blind Day Care Centre. Warragul Jaycees successfully co-ordinated this evening and a great time was had by all 200 who attended and it raised $1,100.00.

At the November dinner meeting a "Calcutta" was held on the Melbourne Cup. Vin McDermott successfully bid for the winner and collected a sizeable purse for that privilege.

Wine and Cheese Tasting in conjunction with Yarragon Lions. With invaluable help of John Higgins, a variety of wines and cheeses were tasted and enjoyed by about 150 people at the Yarragon Public Hall.

Debating. Our Chapter team won the Regional Debating contest only to be narrowly beaten in our Inter Regional Final by Nunawading.

Geoff M. King Oratory: Won by Randall Peart after a good lively Chapter Final.

Working bee at Warragul Cemetery. Approximately twelve members took part in mowing lawns and spraying blackberries at the cemetery.

Jaycee Park Improvements. Approximately ten members helped in the erection of pine posts and rails.

Safe Driver Award. Warragul Auto Accessories provided a prize for the winner. It is hoped these awards will encourage our community to drive more carefully.

Hospital Family Fun Fair. Jaycees manned the gates at the Warragul Show grounds for the West Gippsland Hospital's Family Fun Fair.

Farm World Safety Design Award. This is a continuing yearly project conducted at the Gippsland Field Days, Larner with 35 entrants.

Undoubtedly the most pleasing memory of my year as President is the great growth in fellowship which occurred as Jaycees went about their tasks whether they were big or small. Enthusiasm is indeed infectious, and it is to the enthusiasm of our members that we owed the growth in membership and great involvement in all projects. The enthusiasm of the chapter resulted in there being 100% participation in the Warragul Shire Centenary Ball project. Planning for the memorable event went on for months in 1981, and much was demanded of Jaycees, Jaycettes and past Jaycees, however everyone was only too happy to contribute. The town has still not stopped talking about the success that it was.

Leadership Development activities included the Effective Speaking Course, the Geoff M. King Oratory Competition, Youth Speaks for Australia, The World Trade Game, Mock Parliament and Debating with Warragul winning the Gipps and Regional Final.

The Community Awareness Course was run at Marist-Sior College by the Community Affairs Commission. They also undertook to transport Civilian Widows to and from their meetings, to complete construction of Jaycee Park and to make awards once again for Safety Design at Farm World and for Safe Driving in Warragul.

The Community Affairs team also carried out a feasibility study to set up a small dairy on the farm at Odyssey House. This project was completed in 1982.

The coffer at the chapter were tight filled by the Ways and Means team with the success of the White Elephant Auction which raised $2,500, the Dairy Sales, the manning of the show gates, and the Farm World working bee.

The Warragul Jaycees Community Calendar was not only financially successful it also won for the Chapter the Outstanding Project of the Gippsland Region.

The membership of 36 enjoyed many social functions throughout the year, the cricket match against Leongatha wine and cheese night, car trial, home hospitality and the never to be missed "real" fishing trip to the Tambo.

The year ended on a really delightful note with the first ever Warragul Carols by Candlelight. This was a beautiful celebration of the true meaning of Christmas, set in picturesque Civic Park with the Warragul Band and chorus from the various churches.

The highlights of 1982 were the Warragul Shire Centenary Ball, the success of a number of local projects and the winning of Chapter and Regional project awards at Regional and State level.

To achieve all of this there was a real commitment among our members. Some examples of our projects are outlined below.

Leadership and Development had a full program. Our debaters won through to the State Semi Final. Warragul's Youth Speaks for Australia finalist won the Regional final and was a worthy representative at the State Championships. The chapter hosted the Regional final of Youth Speaks for Australia.

A major project for Community Affairs was to assist the residents of Odessey House at Templeton. This involved renovating an old cowshed. We supplied ideas, some equipment and labour and four cows. Two "residents" came to Warragul for a 24 hour crash course in dairy farming.

Following the success of the Centenary Ball, Membership and Social organised a monster B.B.Q., fishing trip to the Yalbo River and rather testing car navigation rally. Membership was 31 and three new members were inducted.

The monthly magazine News & Views plus Jaycees weekly activities were features of the Public Relations Commission.

Ways and Means projects were so successful that they exceeded their target by 33%. The white elephant auction was overwhelming. Diaries were sold. 3,800 Community Calendars were printed and hand delivered.

Chairman Steve Walsh was a most worthy winner of the Outstanding Jaycee Award for 1982.

Our treasurer updated the financial record keeping procedures and instituted several excellent ideas.

Jaycettes had a busy year. The Warragul Shire Centenary Ball was a good example. This project was an outstanding success. It took 12 months to plan and a 100% contribution from Jaycees and Jaycettes.

The Ball was enjoyed by over 900 people and raised $4300. The well presented Warragul Jaycees Centenary Wine racks were a much sort after item.

The concept of success breeding success really worked this year. As far as our outstanding project, the Ball will always stay in my mind as one of the best planned and best executed projects undertaken during my time in Jaycees everybody had a part to play.

The main highlight of the year in our 31st Anniversary celebrations which coincides with Australian Jaycees 50 Anniversary.

A reunion was held on Saturday 25th June and conducted as part of Jaycee Week.

The reunion was held in the superb setting of the West Gippsland Arts Centre and was hosted by the Shire President Cmn. Arthur Hanson.

This was followed by a dinner dance at the Exhibition Hall with 170 people in attendance.

In reviewing our history it is interesting to note that Warragul Jaycees have always had a strong membership of over 30 members every year since its inauguration.

As well as an active involvement in the local community it has also played an active role in State and National Jaycee affairs.

At the time of writing in June 1983 the chapter had completed 12 projects. The major project being the updating and reprinting of the Jaycee farm location map which was an outstanding success when it was previously printed.

Two new members were inducted at the May Dinner Meeting, as President this year I believe this is my area of greatest challenge in ensuring that new members are recruited.

I also believe that teamwork is an essential part of success in my organisation and my aim is to ensure that through a team effort the Warragul Jaycees continues to be a successful chapter.
